

ORGANIZATIONS AND ADMINISTRATION OF THE UNIVERSITY

The University of Nebraska is composed of four campuses: the University of Nebraska Medical Center (UNMC), the University of Nebraska at Kearney (UNK), University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL), and the University of Nebraska at Omaha (UNO). Each campus is headed by a chancellor, who is also a Vice President of the University. Each campus reports to the President of the University, who is ultimately responsible to the Board of Regents, which consists of eight representatives elected from designated regions of the state and four non-voting student regents.

UNMC is composed of seven administrative units. These include the Colleges of Dentistry, Nursing, Pharmacy, Public Health, Medicine, Allied Health Professions, and the UNMC Graduate Studies division of the University Graduate College. Each of these is led by a dean, associate dean, or vice chancellor. Three other administrative units – the Munroe-Meyer Institute, the Eppley Institute for Research in Cancer and the McGoogan Library of Medicine – are led by a dean or director.

In addition, five vice chancellors report to the UNMC chancellor, in the areas of Academic Affairs; Business, Finance, and Business Development; External Relations; Information and Technology; and Research. Each vice chancellor oversees a team to carry out specific roles of UNMC.
