

GRADUATE STUDIES

UNMC educational programs consistently rank among the highest in the nation, and our researchers are in the forefront of fields such as transplant medicine, cancer, neurodevelopment, genomics and cardiovascular disease. Graduate Studies is at the very heart of UNMC, and many of our students work in the labs where this groundbreaking research is made.

As part of the University of Nebraska Graduate College, UNMC Graduate Studies is under the leadership of Dr. Dele Davies, Dean of Graduate Studies. It is our mission to provide, promote and enhance the highest quality graduate education in health science at UNMC.
